Saturday afternoon a small Shetland pony about 3 feet high walked out of the south bound express car onto the truck and thence to the platform, much to the delight of the little Edgar girls, to whom it belongs, and a crowd of little much-admiring friends. It was all the crowd of men could do to prevent the children from devouring the docile horselet.

Redbud, Gordon Co., Ga. Beggs' Mfg. Co. Please send by express at once one dozen Beggs' Blood Purifier. It is the most wonderful medicine I ever tried for Scrofula. S. R. Taylor, Spencer, North Side Druggist.

Neodesha Derrick: The persons owning the street sprinkler which has been operated spasmodically and scarcely any in Neodesha for several years, sold the same to Iola parties and it was started for that city yesterday.

The editor of this paper thinks that the man who came into his yard and took every blessed pear that was growing there, might at least call around and say "Thank you." The impoliteness of some people is astonishing.

A sad little excursion headed by the deacons of the U. B. church, took 100 mouldy pumpkin pies left from the log rolling preparations out to the suburbs and buried them Saturday. This is too mournful a subject to write more about.

Bert McNeil has been feeling sick for some time, but didn't give up until Friday night. He then took a lay-off for a week or two, and the excursion to Cincinnati coming along just then, he boarded it and is trying a change of climate.

The Atchison Champion says that Diamond Dick died at El Paso, Texas, last Thursday, from a wound received in a fight at Socorro, N. M., a few days before. That is the way Dick will die, when he dies, but his death has been reported so often that we will wait for confirmation.

J. H. Newbarn, M. D., of Whitefield, one of the foremost doctors in the Indian Territory writes: "I have recommended and sold Beggs' Blood Purifier for the past five years and am pleased to say it has no equal in any blood medicine that I have ever tried." Sold by Spencer, North Side Druggist.

Another theft is reported for log rolling day. The home of Mr. Bruner near the river was entered during the absence of the family and thoroughly ransacked. All the jewelry which could be found, principally the property of Miss Clara Bruner, and about $2.50 in cash were taken.

"What is the use of sweeping off the side walk?" The dirt will all blow back again," said Culbertson to Remsburg. "Are you going to dinner?" quoth Remsburg. "Yes," said Culbertson. "What's the use? You'll get hungry again!" And Culbertson had to buy 'em for the whole gang.

Carl Lucock was one of the mounted police on log rolling day and he stopped four runaways. One was a buggy with three little girls in it and the other three were runaways started by the big gun. Lucock rode a cow pony of the Iola Cash Meat Market's, and the little beast would run like a deer and head off the frightened horse by running right under his neck. In this way several stops were made that could have been accomplished in no other way. Lucock and the pony deserve a whole lot of credit therefore.

Chanute Tribune. H. P. Farrelly returned from Independence at noon today, where he saw Hon. A. W. Dennison, Presiding Judge of the court of Appeals, and obtained a writ of Habeas Corpus, in behalf of John Bell. The hearing as to bail will be held at Erie next Thursday.

Appreciative and much appreciated note from the Cherryvale Clarion: "Charley Scott's special Woodmen edition of Thursday is about the warmest number of the Iola REGISTER that we have ever seen. And as a local county daily the regular REGISTER, barring its tendency to be hogish with Kansas gas, is the best paper of its class in the State."

Captain E. M. Eckley has sold his farm near Earlsboro and will go to one of the Puget Sound cities where he hopes to enjoy better health. The family will be much missed in their neighborhood where they are very popular. They expect to leave about the first of December. We wish them health and prosperity in "the evergreen state."—Shawnee (Okla.) Quill.

Capt. Eckley lived at Iola many years, and his friends in this county will read the above note with much interest.

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR

gives nature the mild assistance needed for the regulation of the menses. It is of wonderful aid to the girl just entering womanhood, to the wife, and to the woman approaching or going through the turn of life. Women who suffer from any unnatural drain, any bearing-down pains in the lower abdomen, falling or displacement of the womb, can quickly cure their troubles at home, completely away from the eyes of a physician. A few doses taken each month will regulate the menses perfectly.

One of the first bracing effects of the cold wave was to overrun the Justices' offices with law suits and the like. When a cold wind blows through a summer suit, a man invariably thinks of a means of replacing it.

Hot days followed by cool nights will breed malaria in the body that is bilious or costive. Prickly Ash Bitters is very valuable at this time for keeping the stomach, liver and bowels well regulated. Sold by Chas. B. Spencer & Co.

Mel Myler saw and heard and experienced more in Cuba than the average recruit, but all kinds of bets can be found in town that even some of the boys on the Pacific coast will have tales of hardship and danger more thrilling in the telling, to tell than he tells.

Gen. Miller, in command of the volunteers at San Francisco, says that the Twentieth Kansas will be on its way to Honolulu or Manila within a month. One thing seems pretty certain, and that is that the boys will not be mustered out for several months at the earliest.

Harry Sleeper is learning to ride a bicycle. He practices only after dark and has a sad tale to tell. For instance he saw a hedge apple ten feet out of the road and the confounded wheel ran over it. The wheel has another trick of turning in at every church which its owner cannot understand.

A philosophical observation by Lou Bartels: "A man will haggle over the price of a jack knife, and kick against paying 50 cents for a knife that cost the dealer 45 cents. But that same man will go into a dive and dig up 25 cents for a bottle of beer that only cost 23 cents, and think he has a snap."

The columns of the REGISTER show that the merchants are beginning their fall announcements, and the best advice we can give to our readers is to watch the advertising columns of this paper closely. It will take only a few minutes each week to scan every advertisement, and it may save you a good many dollars.

Mr. N. L. Nezie is doing a very nice business which is on the boom in his washing machine business. He has them made here at home and ships them all over the country. Today's shipment included nine machines. They are pronounced to be the best on the market and when he becomes "rich enough," Mr. Nezie will build a factory of his own.

While working on a house last Saturday morning R. S. Moore fell and sustained severe injuries, his arm being broken in two places. He was assisted to his home on S. Cottonwood and a surgeon dressed and set the broken arm and he is getting along as nicely as could be expected. Mr. Moore is an old man and for that reason the broken bones mean more trouble than in a younger man. His many friends will hope to see him recover rapidly.

When the American forces at Santiago heard of Cervera's "sad but glorious" dash, a cheer that was terrific and prolonged ran along the earth works for miles. It was during a truce and the Spaniards were on their earthworks opposite watching the Americans. When that cheer went up the Spaniards went down into the trenches like prairie dogs, for the only other time they had heard that fierce yell was during the charges which always made them hunt their holes.

Soldier Melvin Myler has made the REGISTER a most highly appreciated gift, the same being a group of five Mauser cartridges which he picked up in the trenches on San Juan hill, in front of Santiago. He also presented this office with one of the brass explosive bullets which the Spanish fired from the Remingtons. Mr. Myler thinks the Mauser, with which the Spaniards were mostly armed, is much better weapon than the Krag-Jorgensen, with which our own troops are equipped, being simpler and easier to handle and fully as accurate and deadly. The REGISTER is very proud to have these relics from the great battle, and is glad to show them to visitors.

USE PRICKLY ASH BITTERS

Captain Amos Walton, of Arkansas City, died last week. The papers say he was a captain in the Ninth Kansas but none of the boys about here seems to remember him.

"The finest little Scotchman there ever was," says the proud father, and nobody doubts it.

Bert Ames, who has been hotel clerk at the Thomson Hotel for the past year, left last night for Connecticut, his old home. Pattee is working in his place.

Mel Myler has among his other keepsakes a nasty looking one-pound cartridge taken from the deck of the Vizcaya the day after the battle. It is a token worth having.

Talk about original sin! There are babies born into this world whose first effect on the morality of that world is to set all the male friends of their papa to smoking huge black cigars.

The sale of land for delinquent taxes this year is much lighter than ever before known in this county. It is a mighty good sign that General Prosperity is still doing business at the old stand.

Neodesha Derrick: The Humboldt Union with a wistful expression born of weak gas wells, says: "The gas wasted at Iola Thursday by the blowing of gas whistles would have furnished fuel for that town all winter."

NEW CLOTHING HOUSE.

After A Careful Survey of the Country, Mr. John F. Fox Locates at Iola and Will Start in Business at Once.

Mr. John F. Fox has rented the vacant room in the Thomson block and is having it prepared for the reception of a large new stock of men's and boys' furnishings and clothing. He expects to be ready to open up and begin business within two weeks.

Mr. Fox is almost a total stranger to Iola people, having been in town only once before the present time. He is a New York City man who has been well educated in business. It has taken him a good many years to get from the metropolis of his birth to the metropolis of his life work. He first went to Detroit, Mich., where for several years he was manager of the Men's clothing department in R. H. Traver's large and fashionable haberdashery and clothing store. Several months ago he came west seeking a location for a business of his own and landed at Joplin, Mo. He liked the town but met a drummer who, learning his wish, told him not to choose a place until he had visited Iola, "the finest growing city in the west."

Mr. Fox came to Iola and is here to stay.

Personally Mr. Fox is a genial young man who will make friends rapidly and the REGISTER takes great pleasure in announcing his location here. He will put in a full line of goods, excellent in quality and reasonable in price, and between himself and the goods ought to win friends and customers rapidly.
